STARTLING ALLEGATIONS MADE BY LOUIS C. SCHILLING.

Two Obloans also Deliberately Robbed and Murdored - Chinese Minister at Washington - Ordered to Look for Distressed Vessels-Washington Notes. WASHINGTON, Nov. 25. - Louis C. Schilling, a naturalized American citizen, called on the state department Wednesday to complain of his treatment by the Mexican authorities. He charges that he was arrested, robbed of his watch and money and shot three times by an officer because he complained of his treatment, and that he was dragged on the ground with a lasso because be could not run as fast as ordered, in going from one prison to another.

He says that one day, while imprisoned at Piedras Negras, two Americaus named McCowan and White, citizens of Onio, were brought in and robbed of their money, some $100, and early the next morning were de-liberately murdered by the officials, and their bodies hauled away in a cart. Sch.l-ling says his appeal to the state department is not so much to secure justice for himself from the Mexican government as to see if the Mexicans cannot be made to respect the rights of Americans in that country.

Wedding Indefinitely Postponed. Oxford, O., Nov. 25.—Some eight months ago Alfred L. Steinfritz came to this vioinity and took up his residence with Mr. Lafe Smoyer. Soon after his arrival here he be came acquainted with Miss Delia Bolack, daughter of a well-to-do farmer, whom he courted assiduously, and not in vain, for they were to have been married Wednesday. A few weeks ago it was rumored that Steinfrits had a wife residing somewhere near Bidney, O., from he was not divorced. This report, however, was denied by Steinfritz, who claimed he had secured a divorce, but while cutting woods in the woods he laid his coat on a log, and some bogs chewed it up, thereby destroying the official document, which was in his coat pocket. The report having reached the young lady's father ears, be refused to allow the marriage to be contracted until Steinfritz would produce a copy of the divorce, which Steinfrits has en unable to do, consequently turning the expected event of joy into one of con sternation and sorrow.

The State Rests with a Strong Case-De-Smuz Cirr, Iowa, Nov. 15.—The defense gan taking evidence in the Arenedorf murder case yesterday morning, the state having rested with a very strong case Tuesday evening. Swan Anderson was called. He said that he was nearly two blocks west when the shooting was done. He waited five minutes to see who would come across the bridge. He saw no one but saw men ARENSDORF. Saw no one but saw men run away from the Columbia house corner. Did not see the crowd gather there though it did so immediately. The value of this testimony can be guessed. Ben. Keith, a Chicago bar-tender, swore that Leavitt nad seduced his wife; that in May 1886 he became aquainted with Leavitt in Mount Clemens, Mich., at which time Leavitt told him that a gospel shark, Haddock, was trying to close the saloons here and that if he interfered with his (Leavitt's) business the minister would be put where the dogs couldn't reach him.

The force of this evidence will appear when it is known that Leavitt was in this city during May and most of June. Several dispositions have been read concerning Leavitt's habits while in Leavenworth and and other places, all for the purpose of impeachment. Joe Marks, a wholesale liquor man, said yesterday: "If Arensdorf can get a verdict of mansiaughter and four years sentence he had best accept it." Thus it will be seen the dizzy precipics upon which the defense rests.

Bialne Having His Picture Painted. CHICAGO, Nov. 25. - A Paris cable to the News says: Mr. Blaine spent two hours yesterday in posing in the studio of Healey, the renowned painter, whose brush has left to posterity the best portraits of modern European celebrities. Mr. Blaine has sat for the artist seven times in the last fortnight. The work will be fluished Thursday or Friday, when Mr. Healey will expose it at a private reception. It will be entirely the product of Mr. Healey's enterprise. He thinks Mr. Blaine's face should hold a position among those of the great men of the age. Several weeks ago he called on Mr. Blaine, to whom his fame had preceded him, expressed profound admiration for his genius and requested that he grant a few sittings. Mr. Blaine consented, and soon after began the pilgrimages to Healey's studio that are now drawing to a close. The ladies saw the canvass Thursday and are gratified. Mr. Healey says Mr. Blaine has a wonderfully suggestive nose for caricature, and the most singular drooping of the mouth he ever saw. He is quite possessed of the idea that Mr. Blaine will succeed President Cieveland, a consummation which would lead to renewed discinction for the artist in the salon next year.

A Death Blow to "Social" Clubs. Mr. Gilkad, O., Nov. 25.—In the common pleas court Judge Dickey passed upon the right of social clubs to deal in intoxicating liquors in local option towns. The case ing a turkey to each officer and employe of came into this court on error from the mayor's court on the ground that the Olentangy ciub, which had been chartered by the secretary of state, had the right to deal out liquors to their members without violating the prohibition ordnance. The president of this club, A. W. Dennia, was tried and found guilty of selling intoxicating liquors in violation of the ordinance by Mayor Garver some time ago, and the decision of Judge Dickey affirms the decision of the mayor, and this city will become a prohibition town indeed, for the Olentangy an Whetstone clubs announce that they will suit business at once.

The Drouth Broken in Illinois.

CHICAGO, Nov. 25. - Dispatches from various parts of southern Illinois report the breaking of the five months' drouth by copious rains. The rains are extinguishing the forest fires which have been raging for several days past and doing a great deal of damage. At Champaign the sudden breaking out of a stream of excellent water in a level field of dry, parched land brought great relief to the farmers, who dammed up the water and hauled it away to their homes. The appearance of the water after such a terrible drouth is regarded as a remarkable phenomenon.

Camden's Gas Well Gives Out.

CAMDEN, O., Nov. 25.-Camden is much dejected on account of the failure of the natural gas. # THE TRIAL OF HERR MOST JURY SECURED FOR THE ARCH-AN-ARCHIST.

The Defence Denies the Incendiary Part of the Speech - Examination of Witnesses-Where the Anarchists will be Duried-Visit to Joliet.

NEW YORK, Nov. 25 .- The work of getting a jury to try John Most was continued and shortly after noon twelve men had been secured, who was satisfactory to both sides. The jury was then swe n. Assistant District Attorney Nicoll opened the case for the people. The language that the prosecution will endeavor to prove Most as having used is this:

"Every person concerned it that tragedy -the hanging of the Chicago Anarchists from the beginning to the end, is marked for destruction. The revolution is at hand, [A voice here cried: 'Why not begin tonighti'] Again, I say, arm yourselves for the revolution. Our arm is the bomb— stronger than the Gatling gun or other weapons. It kills fifty at once. Grinnell shall be the first; then comes Gary, the judges of the supreme court of Illinois, and the judges of the United States supreme court. And let not Oglesby think he will sscape because he commuted two of them."

Mr. Nicoll told the jury that the clause of the penal code under which the indictment was brought, provided that any assembly of three or more persons at which was threat-ened any uniawful act, was an ulawful assembly and the participants guilty of mis-demeanor. There would doubtless be a great deal said about the constitution, of free speech, but the same constitution provided that the abuse of speech should be pun-

Mr. Nicoll said that his witnesses were Detectives Sachs, Roth and Samuel Dreyfuss, a reporter for the City Press association, all of whom understood German and had made a note of the meeting.

Col. Fellows will sum up the case for the prosecution. Detective Roth was the first witness called.

The witness told how he and his brother officers were present at the meeting in disguise, and gave a detailed account of what was said and done. John J. Saxe, another detective, corroborated Roth in full.

The crose-examination of Saxe was begun by Mr. Howe. An effort was made to show that the witness had given different testi-mony before the grand jury. The witness had not given his account of the meeting so full as at the trial, and he admitted of having made a mistake before the grand jury in saying that Most began his speech with the words, "Fellow slaves." The words used by Most were "Bruder Anerch-ists." He thought Most had used the English plural to Anarchists, and not the German.

Simon S. Dreyfuss, a reporter, corroborated witnesses substantially. The man had sat next to him at the meeting, who jumped up, saying: "Why not to-day! We're ready." Most concluded by saying: "I am an Anarchist. Rise, Anarchy, long may it live." He thought it time to get out, which he did. He did not take notes because he did not want to be carried out dead. The witness did not suffer much under a severe cross-examination. state rested its case and the court adjourned.

Nina Buys a Mourning Bonnet.

CHICAGO, Nov. 25, -Nina Van Zandt and her mother entered a millinery store on Wabash auenue Wednesday morning to buy a mourning bonnet for Nina. Several bonnets were shown, and Nina picked out one of black nuns' veiling, with a long widow's veil of the same material. Her mother objected to the veil, saying that it was too deep mourning for her to wear.

An argument on the subject was terminated by Nina, who turned to her mother and said sharply: "Mother, if you have come here to argue family matters it would have been better to have stayed at home. Mrs. Van Zandt said no more, and her daughter ordered the widow's weeds, paying $13, the price asked, and ordering them sent to "Mrs. Spies," at her residence. proxy widow wore no mourning for Spice at the Anarchist funeral. Her purchase is the first public intimation of an intention on the part of Nina to put on widow's

Where Spies and Associates Will Lie. CHICAGO, Nov. 25. - The place in which the bodies of the dead Anarchists are to be buried has been selected, and nothing is re-quired now but the formal sanction of the authorized organizations before the bodies can be interred. The defense committe met Mr. John Buehle, president of the Waldbeim Cemetrey company, and three of the directors yesterday afternoon, and went to the cemetry with them. The lot chosen is in the northeast quarter of the cemetrey, and is trianglar in shape. Two prominent driveways pass it on the northeast and northwest sides, while to the southwest is one of the largest open spaces in the cemetery.

BAD STEERING.

A Schooner Run Down by a Steamer on

New Haven, Conn., Nov. 25.—The newly launched Storington line steamer Connecticut, while being towed to New York by the tugs America and Gertrude, collied off Captain's Island with the schooner Annie E. Ketchum, Capt. Ketchem, coal laden, from Philadelphia to this port. The steamer is not thought to be badly damaged. She proceeded to New York with the America. The Gertrude went to the assistance of the Ketchum and towed her to this port. The Ketchum lost her bowsprit and all head-gear and topsail, and had her port shrouds scraped away and mizzen sails split. Capt. Ketchum says the accident was due to bad steering by the Connecticut. The tugs passed the Ketchum 1,000 feet north, but the Connecticut steered southward and came head on for the schooner. As the steamer's lights were those of a moving steamer instead of a tow, the Katchum supposed she could follow the rule the sea and clear the schooner.

As the steamer came straight on the mate of the Ketchum shouted: "Are you going to deliberately run us down?" and also shouted to his helmsman to port the helm, which was done. The breeze was light, and the schooner luffed up very slowly, but her bow went to windward enough so that the Connecticut struck on the port bow near the knightheads instead of end on, in which case she would have sunk so quickly that all on board would have been drowned, as her boat was carried away by the collision. Capt. Ketchum says the steering of the Connecticut was horrible, and that she had just before missed by an inch running into another schooner. Capt. Parker, of the Ger-trude, says the lights on the Connecticus were wrong.

Their only means of subsistence was the bare pittance of forty cents a day, while the mother has earned by cleaning the hair from pigs' feet in a factory on Sycamore street.

Diamond Thief Arrested.

NEW YORK, Nov. 25. -William H. Dorsey. colored, was arrested Wednesday for the theft of the Morgan diamonds. Some of the gems were found on his person, and he had disposed of the others for small amounts, compared with their value, which was about $10,000. He had only $400, when arrested. He was betrayed by a negro named Tucker, who had assisted him in disposing of the booty. Dorsey is an expert second-story thief, and is said to have served ten years for house breaking in Chicago. Carged with felonious assault on Mrs. Yeakle, an aged white woman, on Friday last, was taken from jail at 1:30 o'clock Wednesday morning and hanged to a tree about a quarter of a mile from the prison. Bigus declared his innocence, and said Joe Hall, another colored man, was the derpetrator of the assault. The sheriff denied admission to the masked lynchers, who battered down the doors and took their victim from his cell. When the place of execution was reached Bigus asked to be permitted to pray, which was granted him. After he was drawn up to the tree three pistol shots were fired into his body.
